Share your thoughts on the future of ADUs in Tempe.

Comparte sus pensamientos sobre el futuro de las ADUs en Tempe.

Tempe is considering updates to code regulations that allow Accessory Dwelling Units (ADUs) and is seeking additional public input. This code sets the rules for building extra living spaces like casitas or creating separate rental units on existing properties. Right now, only a limited number of properties qualify to build ADUs; a possible code update that could expand their use is being considered.

Join us at upcoming meetings; the same information will be shared at all meetings.
