

You are invited to make your pledge today

"Hometown for All is a game changer for accelerating the growth of affordable housing in Tempe. With developer support, we can strengthen our community, economy and workforce even more."

– Mayor Corey Woods

Hometown for All

Tempe's innovative initiative for expanding affordable and workforce housing

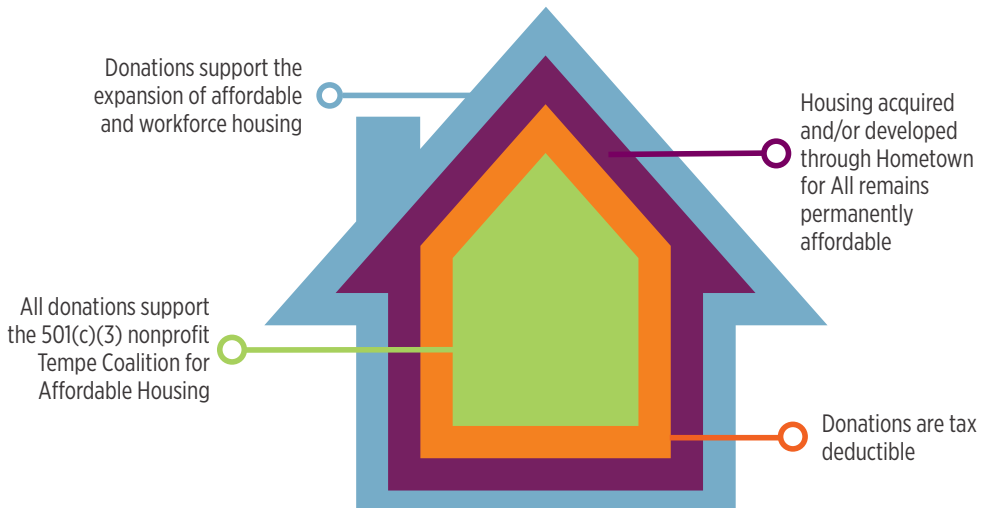

Hometown for All is driven by sustainable revenue from certain permitting fees and voluntary contributions from developers. Creating our own funding source allows the city to meet housing needs faster and for the long term.

Your voluntary contributions will help keep our community strong:

- Companies locate where the most qualified talent can be found; people want to live close to where they work
- Attracting top companies and top talent requires a solid inventory of housing stock
- All industries benefit when their workforce has a range of nearby housing options
- Vibrant, healthy communities need a diverse mix of residents and housing

How it works

Donations are welcome from developers and other entities

What it supports

Contributions expand housing opportunities through:

Permanently affordable single-family homes, apartment complexes, condos

Partnerships to develop affordable/workforce housing

Reimagined city-owned properties
